DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species (types) of the claimed invention:

1. fusion protein drawn to the first polypeptide binding to tet operator sequences in the absence of tet. (e.g., claim 33) versus fusion protein drawn to the first polypeptide binding to tet operator sequences in the presence of tet. (e.g., claim 36).

Select one or the other.

2. if the latter species of number 1 above is elected (encompassing claim 36), then a specific type of mutated Tet repressor polypeptide must also be elected, one of the repressors set forth in claims 39, 40, or 41.

3. fusion protein drawn to the second polypeptide comprising a transcription silencer domain. Select one of the transcription domains, such as one from claims 42-51.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species (from each numbered type of species above) for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 32 is generic for all species.

Art Unit: 1636

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species (for each numbered type of species above) that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1636

In the interests of compact prosecution, the following is noted. The Sequence Rules have not been fully complied with because sequences are set forth throughout the application which lack sequence identifiers. For example, Figure 4 sets forth either six sequences, if each line is considered to be a sequence, or more than six sequences, if each sequence of more than four amino acids between the dashes in the different lines represent a different sequence. Full Sequence Rules compliance is needed before the application can be examined.
